

15 Things To Do

in the City of Logan

- 1 Play I-spy a koala in the wild
Try searching Springwood Conservation Park, or meet one of the resident koalas at the Daisy Hill Koala Centre.
- 2 Hug a tree not much bigger than me!
Head to Alexander Clark Park. Can you find a tree that reminds you of yourself?
- 3 Find natural treasures
Spring Mountain Park is full of natural treasures such as animal tracks, leaves of different colours and textures, and treasured views. Keep your memories with photos.
- 4 Sail a nature raft or toy boat
Grab some mates and have a race at Shailer Pioneer Park or Glenlogan Lake.
- 5 Become a night owl and go star spotting
Head out to Berrinba Wetlands and walk along the path with a torch. Can you see or hear any night animals?
- 6 Spot one of nature's high rises
There are many old growth trees at Boronia Bushlands that contain homes for many different animals such as bugs, termites, bees, birds or possums! How many animals can you spot?
- 7 Count the colours
Count the colours when the wildflowers bloom in spring at Plunkett Conservation Park. Bring your art supplies and re-create it!
- 8 Hop along FUNderwood Hollow
Pretend you're a Brush-tailed rock wallaby and hop along the dry creek bed at FUNderwood Park, Underwood.
- 9 Go on a sound hunt
Find loud sounds such as birds singing and frogs croaking at Greenwood Lakes or Gould Adams Park.
- 10 Who can see the sea first?
Catch a glimpse of Moreton Bay from the top of Cornubia Forest Park.
- 11 River Explorers!
Try fishing, canoeing or boating at Logan River Parklands.
- 12 Get environmentally educated
Attend one of Council's free environmental activities or have fun in the Eco Kids Zone at the Logan Eco Action Festival (LEAF).
- 13 Watch eagles soar
Raise your gaze at Eagleby Wetlands where 19 of Australia's 24 Australian raptors can be spotted.
- 14 Watch trees grow, or plant your own
Regularly visit the newly planted trees at Riverdale Park or Wendt Park.
- 15 Do a cycle safari challenge
How many animals can you spot while riding your bike along the Slacks Creek Cycle path or the East-West cycle route from Boronia Heights to Browns Plains.
